

Chapter 1 Mini-lesson

Directions: After watching Bart Baggett's Ted Talk The Neuropathways to Happiness write a thorough summary of his main points. Refer to the summary rubric.

Link:

~~<https://youtu.be/4tHPwi8dl8>~~

Summary Rubric

A summary allows you to concisely (briefly) relay the most important parts of a text. As applicable, think: Who? What? Where? Why? How? So what?

TRAITS	4 Advanced	3 Proficient	2 Partially Proficient	1 Below Proficient
Ideas, Content	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Demonstrates thorough understanding of text * main idea/s of text summarized clearly and concisely with ample supporting details 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Demonstrates adequate understanding of text * main idea/s of text summarized and supporting details are adequate 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Demonstrates lack of understanding of text * Main ideas from text not included and/or supporting details are weak 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Demonstrates lack of understanding of text * Information is missing or not clearly summarized * supporting details are not included
Organization	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Well organized with clear * introduction * support * body * conclusion 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Organized with clear * introduction * support * conclusion 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Disorganized structure * introduction * support * conclusion 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Missing or confusing * introduction * support * conclusion
Conventions	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> * No significant errors in spelling, grammar, or punctuation 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Few errors in spelling, grammar, or punctuation 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Multiple errors in spelling, grammar, or punctuation 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Multiple errors with spelling, grammar, or punctuation * difficult to read or understand